When I look at Cesare I am thinking more of a nature lover than an instrument collector and that inspires me to think about instruments in a way that is also nature inspired. What is it that I love about instruments and the domain? The ability to create works of art with these instruments. Why are they so beautiful, so majestic, so awe-inspiring? The Domain in my heart stands for freedom in the making of music. The making of good music is free in the Domain and no one has ever been charged a fee for one of the works of art it can create.

Let us have a look at the first of our four bundles. This very special bundle contains drawings by Aged Oronzio, a reissue of a painting by Roberto Bassi and all of the Harmony of seven chromatic vihuelas. A wonderful bundle. To make the rest of this bundle special I will share with you the drawing on which the album 'Terra Incognita' is based. It will tell you who the 'Illustrious Lords' are. Firstly we must thank Aged Oronzio for giving us this 0cc13bf012

Fancy Pantry, who's willing to share some of her delicious baked pasta treats. A few weeks ago we got to chatting about our favorite "fall" recipes. Well, now it's time to share them! I'll be talking about her made-from-scratch and store-bought goodies, but here's a little more about her: My name is Marie and I'm from Denver, Colorado, but I now live in Calgary, Alberta. I have been blogging for about 3 years now and I do love cooking, baking and decorating. Now that I moved to Canada and I live in a flat, I have more time to bake, cook and decorate. I started to share my recipes in my blog 4 years ago when my daughter came to me and asked for a Greek cookbook for her to use when she went to school
